FUNDING AXE FALLS ON FOYER

Shocked residents told they must leave Occasio House by September

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

MORE than 100 vulnerable young people will be moved from their homes under plans to close Occasio House in Harlow.

In a letter to residents, which has been seen by the Star, housing provider and operator East Thames said: "East Thames' supported accommodation and foyer services have historically provided support to a high number of young people in one building.

"The foyer model provides accommodation and support for maximum of two years to enable young people to move on to more independent living.

"This large-scale approach is difficult to manage, and it is the view of both East Thames and Essex County Council that the model of support offered at Harlow Foyer is now longer sustainable in its current form."

Agreed

It added: "We have therefore agreed that Harlow Foyer will no longer provide supported accommodation services."

The project in Playhouse Square offers accommodation to young single homeless people with support needs, and those at risk, aged between 16 and 24 years old.

The building is made up of 116 properties - 76 furnished studios and 40 unfurnished one-bedroom flats.

A spokeswoman for East Thames said that Harlow Foyer will "cease to operate" later this year.

She added: "There will be no funding available to provide support later this year, and this large-scale approach to providing support and accommodation is therefore no longer viable.

"East Thames has therefore decided that Harlow Foyer will no longer provide supported accommodation services from September 2016.

"We are committed to providing as much support as we can to make the transition to alternative suitable accommodation as smooth as possible."

Councillor Rod Truan, portfolio holder for housing, added: "Harlow Council will be supporting both East Thames and Essex County Council during this difficult time for all residents of the Foyer.

"We will work alongside our partners to support and assist some of those affected. Future housing provision for many of the residents will be provided by other agencies and not the council.

"Our support could include advice on the housing options available to individuals and in a few cases the assessment of an individual's housing need. Some Foyer residents may already be on Harlow's Housing Needs Register."

Science park has potential to provide work for 3,000

Milestone as developer selected for multi-million pound project

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

A NEW multi-million-pound, 25-acre science park with restaurants, cafes and a gym will transform Harlow into "the place to be" for future generations.

The creation of the park at Harlow Enterprise Zone moved a step closer this week with landowners Harlow Council appointing VINCI UK Developments as its preferred development partner.

Council leader Jon Clempner said: "This is a really important milestone. This is not just another industrial park it's aspirational. This new science park has huge potential for creating new jobs, creating new opportunities for local people and attracting businesses and further investment to Harlow."

Exciting

"This is a very exciting time for the regeneration of Harlow and the new opportunities that are being created."

He added: "Vinci is an experienced developer with a successful track record of building facilities which regenerate areas and provide economic prosperity."

The council's vision for London Road North is to create a high-quality science park in an attractive campus-style environment that brings high technology companies to the town.

The park will focus on the life science, ICT and advanced manufacturing sectors, providing more than 500,000 sq.ft. of space and potential employment for between 2,500 and 3,000 people. The park will also be the home of Anglia Ruskin University's Med-Tech Innovation Centre.

HOW IT COULD LOOK: An artist's impression of the finished site

Cllr Tony Durcan, portfolio holder for regeneration and enterprise, speaking at a cabinet meeting last Thursday said: "It's a journey, at times it will be slow but at others it will speed up, but it will be a journey."

"Hopefully it will be a very positive and constructive way forward that will be a true legacy for the next generations of Harlow communities."

A full development agreement is expected to be signed in summer with building work starting by the end of the year. Work has already taken place to prepare for development at London Road North with a new access road built through the site and other infrastructure improvements scheduled to be completed by autumn.

Opposition leader Cllr Andrew Johnson said: "This is the future and not only is it the future, it's the future of the future. It makes Harlow the place to be but people outside of Harlow have a way of knocking Harlow, but I don't think they'll be knocking us for much longer," he added.

Opportunity

Cllr Maggie Hulcoop added: "I'm excited about this whole enterprise. It is an opportunity for the town, it's an opportunity for the people that are going to work there, and the apprenticeships that are going to be able to be put in there."

"We've gone from an industrial town as we started out to be to something now that is changing. We're scientific, we're digital and we have an image that is now going to be respected not just here but in Europe and further afield. Because this is a great opportunity for the town put some roots down. We've got everything going for us now."

Bruno Dupety, CEO of VINCI PLC added: "VINCI and Discovery Park will set out to deliver a unique scheme for Harlow that is a step change from what currently exists in the town. We will achieve this through delivering a consistent, yet flexible building design that will appeal to modern occupiers and offer maximum flexibility throughout their occupancy."

"This masterplan will be built around a central heart which will provide a vibrant hub for people to meet, form partnerships and exchange ideas."

School places: Most Essex parents get first choice

THE overwhelming majority of children who will be starting secondary school in September have offered their first or second choice by Essex County Council, according to figures released this week.

The county council dealt with about 15,000 applications, with more than 85.9 per cent of youngsters being allocated a place at their first choice school and 7.7 per cent offered their second choice.

But within hours of parents being informed of the results of the allocation process, some took to social media to record their disappointment at the outcome.

Writing on the Star's Facebook page, Heather Morris said: "My daughter got her third choice and is not going to be with any of her friends, she is so upset" while Claire Haines posted: "My daughter didn't get into any of her choices." Lynn Daniels added: "My son didn't get any of his choices for secondary school and offered a place other end of town to us, so now I need to appeal."

Cllr Ray Gooding, the county council's cabinet member for education and lifelong learning, said he was delighted more than 93 per cent of those who applied had been given their first or second choice.

"This achievement is testament to the hard work of admissions staff, schools and those involved in planning expansions as well as our continued investment in creating additional school places," he said.

"We are creating 2,195 new school places for the 2016/17 academic year and plan to spend £364m over the next three years on delivering thousands more."

In Harlow, an additional 210 places will be created at Longwood Primary Academy this September and Kingsmoor Academy in 2017. A new primary school will also be built at Newhall in 2018.

We'll fight to save out bus

SIR The loss of the number 7 bus service between Churchgate Street and the town centre will be a devastating blow to the community (Star, February 25).

It runs on an hourly basis and is the only one serving Churchgate Street where there are many elderly residents who are totally reliant on it to get to Old Harlow or the town centre. Taxis into Old Harlow cost £3.50 each way and to the town centre £8.50 each way.

This is clearly an unaffordable sum to most elderly or poorly paid people.

This is a heartless decision by Arriva, who don't appear to have taken into account the vital nature of this service. We are told that it is unprofitable and therefore has to go, but surely a company such as Arriva has a social and moral responsibility to communities reliant on such a vital link?

Without this bus service most of our older residents, of which there are many, will be unable to access the shops, the banks, the doctor, the dentist, the post office and many other services.

I have written to Robert Halfon and local councillors, asking them to use every effort on our behalf to rescind the decision to terminate the service.

Norman Crossley
Elmbridge, Harlow

This decision is an outrage

SIR The decision to terminate the number 7 bus service without consultation takes no account of the dependency of older people in the area on this sole bus connection with shops, doctors, dentists, post offices, chemists etc.

I would encourage everyone affected by this decision or who just feels it is an outrage to contact Arriva on 0344 8004411 and tell them so.

Alternatively, drop into Churchgate Stores and sign the petition. We will not go quietly on this.

Eugenie Harvey
Churchgate Street, Old Harlow

■ This week's reader's photo was taken by 13-year-old Katie Cozens and sent in by her mum, Joanne, who writes: "She has an eye for a nice photo and has taken some really pretty ones. She even asked for a proper camera for Christmas."

■ If you have a photo you have taken in or around Harlow and would like to see featured on this page, all you have to do is email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a brief description and details of where and when it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please remember to include your name and address.

Little hope of council homes

SIR In responses to the article about Harlow becoming a garden town (Star, February 18), I would point out it is very unlikely the houses that will be built will be council homes.

In the House of Commons the Tories voted down amendments to the Housing Bill which would prioritise council home building. Also, to build special needs housing and refuges, legislation will let developers off the hook to build council homes.

Historically this has been the case in this town at Church Langley and Newhall and now the Ayletts Field and Briars redevelopments. In fact since the change to Section 106 in 1989, council house building has reduced by over 90 per cent.

The bill will actually see at least 350 council homes sold to the open market to fund the discount sell-off of housing association homes.

I would like to remind Harlow residents that there would also be a massive increase in rents for council and housing association tenants whose income exceeds £30k.

Harlow Defend Council Housing would like people to sign the online Kill The Housing Bill petition and come to the national demonstration on March 13.

Mick Patrick, chair
Harlow Defend Council Housing

Bill an attack on democracy

SIR Ours is supposedly the oldest parliamentary democracy in the world and we talk often of our British belief in fair play. Yet with the Trade Union Bill, this Government is putting these values at risk.

We've already seen them make it harder to register to vote. Soon they will redraw the Parliamentary map in a way that benefits the Conservative Party. Furthermore, hidden in the Trade Union Bill is a clause that is deliberately designed to cut off trade unions' financial support for the Labour Party while doing nothing to limit the hedge funds and millionaires that support the Tories.

They're attacking democracy by silencing opposition, whether it's from unions, campaigners or charities, and by changing the rules to make it harder for anyone else to win an election.

As members of the House of Lords debate the bill, I can only hope the Government will take the opportunity to embody the values of democracy and decency they claim to support and drop these unfair proposals.

Joan Fournier
Cooks Spinney, Harlow

Crossing is a safety hazard

SIR When yet another new mini roundabout was put in place at Tawny's Road in Bush Fair last June it was supposed to help the flow of traffic along Southern Way.

But whoever designed this new road layout didn't take into consideration that cyclists, pedestrians, schoolchildren, the elderly and the disabled would be at the mercy of traffic when trying to cross from the cyclepath that runs alongside Southern Way over to where the GP surgery is.

In the past when the traffic lights were there you had four seconds to cross. Now you don't even have that. You have to look at least four ways when trying to cross.

There are dropped kerbs on both sides but alas there isn't any safe way of crossing. Cars block the dropped kerb and you have to try to sneak between them in the hope they see you and don't move forward. This is especially worse at night and peak traffic times.

So who in their right mind designed this ridiculous crossing?

I have asked the highways department and they say it's local council road planners that make this decision.

I have written to the local councillor for this area in the hope that he could answer my question.

The answer simple. Put in a box junction so that cars have to keep the dropped kerb clear or, even better, a pedestrian crossing.

If we are to encourage more people to walk or cycle rather than take the car then let's have a safer system in place.

Liz O'Hare
Longfield, Harlow

Benefits of being in EU

SIR I was pleased to read in last Star that Robert Halfon will be voting to remain within the European Union.

None of us would dare suggest the EU is perfect or deny that it needs fundamental reform but taken in the round my experience has been that our membership of this unique family of nations has been beneficial to the United Kingdom.

Mr Halfon rightly speaks of the many Harlow jobs that are dependant on our having good relations with our continental cousins, but my experience has been more personal.

My recovery from a debilitating illness was supported by NHS staff from here in the UK and from around the world, not least from the EU.

I suspect most Harlow residents have benefited at some time or another from the skill and expertise of foreign nationals who have made the UK their home.

I have always found our new neighbours polite and very hardworking.

With an ageing population we should be most grateful that we have had such a rich infusion of young blood which has helped our economy recover from the 2008 financial crisis.

Guy Mitchinson
Joyners Field, Harlow

Turning roads into car lots

SIR I would just like to comment on the letters published in the Star over the past few weeks regarding parking in residential areas.

It also does not help when there are several people buying and selling vans and cars from their homes. These are all parked on the roads where these people live.

If they want to buy and sell vehicles, they should find somewhere else to keep them.

Birthday 'boy' Len celebrates his 100th

MORE than 50 family members and friends of Len McKellow made it a day to remember on his 100th birthday.

Mr McKellow, who was born on February 15, 1916, celebrated with an afternoon tea party at his home in Woodwards, Harlow.

His daughter, Irene Kitson, 62, said: "He really enjoyed the day. He is in very good health and he feels fantastic to be 100; it was his goal to make it."

"His partner, Edith Emery, is 99 years old and they're looking forward to her 100th birthday, too."

Mr McKellow was born in east London and served with the Royal Engineers during the Second World War. When he returned home he started working in the London docks.

In 1957 he and his wife Emily moved to Harlow with Irene, and Mr McKellow got a job in the production department at Key Glassworks in Edinburgh Way.

Sadly, his wife passed away more than 40 years ago.

As well as his daughter, Mr McKellow has two stepsons, six grandchildren, 15 great grandchildren and two great great grandchildren.

Irene added: "He loves embroidery and gardening and used to enjoy his allotment."

"He took part in Key Glassworks flowers shows and once won the blue ribbon for his prize batch of vegetables."

Kite surfer killed in 'rare' accident

Friends shocked by death of 'a really nice guy'

William Mata

william.mata@hertssexnews.co.uk

FRIENDS of an experienced kite surfer who suffered fatal injuries in an accident while taking part in the sport he loved have spoken of their shock.

Paramedics battled for an hour in an unsuccessful attempt to save father-of-one Mark Paxton, who was killed while kite surfing at Ray Creek near St Oysth last Sunday (February 21).

Mr Jackson, who was in his 40s, lived with his wife Andrea and their son Jack in a cottage at Canons Brook Golf Club in Harlow where he worked as the ground manager.

Reports from those involved in the rescue effort said strong winds may have pulled him into the sea wall, causing his injuries.

Friend Tony McSpadden, 36, who was with Mr Paxton on the morning of the accident, said: "He was a really nice guy and a very experienced surfer with great ability."

TRAGEDY: Mark Paxton

"The weather conditions were good, it was a nice windy day and he was flying the correct kite. It was a tragic accident."

Simon Mudd, chairman of Essex Kite Surfers' Club, said: "Everyone was shocked and in disbelief as he was someone that was so competent."

"There was nothing wrong with what he did to prepare, it was a tragic accident and unfortunate state of circumstances.

"Kite surfing is a safe sport and not considered an extreme sport. We will be looking at what lessons can be learnt but it's hard to see what we can do."

David Ursell, who runs a kite-surfing school, added: "It was an unfortunate and very rare accident. The whole kite-surfing community is reeling from this news."

A spokesman for the East of England Ambulance Service said Mr Paxton had sustained traumatic injuries.

Sandra Langton, manager of Canons Brook Golf Club, said: "The loss to us all, both professionally and personally, is immense."

"Apart from being exceptionally talented, Mark was a nice guy, and always had time to stop and talk to members and guests at the golf club."

"We are all stunned at this tragic news of his death. He has been an integral part of Canons Brook Golf Club for 19 years."

Bid for Arsenal photo in charity auction

SUPPORTERS of Arsenal Football Club will be hoping to snatch victory in a charity auction in aid of St Clare Hospice.

Fundraisers Dave and Jean Roberts, of Commons Road, Harlow, are inviting telephone bids for a photograph of the Gunners' first team squad autographed by the players.

During the past 15 years Mr and Mrs Roberts have raised more than £50,000 for the hospice, mainly by holding raffles and an annual big band dance.

They now want to boost that total by auctioning the photograph, which comes with a certificate of authenticity.

The telephone auction begins tomorrow (Friday) at 9am and ends on Friday, March 11 at 5pm. Anyone wanting to place a bid should call (01279) 434291.

Relocated nursery gets a new name

A NEW and improved Harlow nursery has been renamed, relocated and officially reopened for youngsters to enjoy.

The Gateway Nursery has moved to the other side of Perry Road to become the Akhter Early Learning Centre Nursery and Pre-School.

Harlow councillor Joel Charles cut the ribbon to officially open the larger centre which will double the child capacity from 130 to 260. Jacqui Ward, manager of Akhter, said: "We are delighted with the facilities our new home offers and the children of Harlow are very lucky to have such a wonderful learning environment that has a focus on nature and outdoor learning. There are plans to develop the nursery further and increase the services we offer to families in the early stages."

■ Call 01279 927020 or more information.

Government to pay for new secondary school

News follows announcement of redundancies over funding cuts

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A NEW secondary school in Harlow would be funded by the Government if plans are given the green light.

Around 25 jobs would also be created under plans by the Burnt Mill Academy Trust to reopen the former Passmore School site in Tendring Road.

The new secondary, which would have a sixth form, would be funded by the Department for Education which will pay for any construction works.

BMAT chief executive, Helena Mills said the new school was to meet the "basic need" for places in Harlow.

She said: "In 2018 there will be over 300 children who will not be able to obtain a place in the five current schools because they will all be full to capacity."

Last month, BMAT announced the start of a consultation over plans to make support staff redundant including teaching assistants, lunchtime assistants and caretakers.

All BMAT primary and secondary schools are affected by the plans, which have been blamed on Government funding cuts.

Jobs

But critics of the new school proposals are questioning why BMAT is expanding while slashing jobs.

Ms Mills said: "Funding to education is reducing in real terms so leaders in education have to use resources very sensibly. We will be doing this and have appropriate staffing planned for 2018 until the school reaches full capacity in 2023."

Feedback from a survey of residents has been "positive" according to BMAT, who says the community recognises the need for another secondary school in the town.

Ms Mills added: "Parents of Year 3 and 4 pupils are particularly supportive as they are worried a place at a current secondary will not be available in the future. The proposal for a sixth form has also been very well received."

The trust hope to name the new school the Sir Frederick Gibberd Academy and have been speaking the Harlow masterplanner's daughter, who is supportive of the name choice.

BMAT has also named Cooks Spinney Academy head of school Stuart Pope as executive headteacher for both Cooks Spinney and Roydon Primary School.

Ms Mill explained: "This is to ensure the expertise of Mr Pope, which has benefitted the more able children of Cooks Spinney, can be shared more formally across Roydon."

Curriculum

"Mr Pope and his team have developed an inspiring new curriculum which will help children in both schools achieve well whilst having a great experience."

"By bringing the schools together, and sharing practices, both Cooks Spinney and Roydon will sooner become outstanding schools."

■ To take part in a survey on the new school plans visit burntmillacademytrust.org/146/new-school-proposal.

Man accused of shooting says gun was pointed at him

A MAN standing trial for a shooting incident in Harlow told a jury it happened as he tried to fend off an attacker who was pointing the gun at him.

Shea Kenny, 25, of Abbeydale Close, Harlow, denies charges of possessing a shotgun with intent to endanger life and wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm.

The prosecution said the incident happened in Willowfield, Harlow, in August last year when the victim, Sam Weaver, was shot in the hand and arm by Kenny who was sitting in his BMW.

Giving evidence, Kenny told the jury at Chelmsford Crown Court that following an exchange of text messages he had collected £480 worth of cannabis to deliver to Mr Weaver.

Hammer

"Sam Weaver walked up to my window, pulled out a hammer and smashed my window and then the passenger door opened and the gun was in my face," said Kenny. "I grabbed it and moved it sideways."

"There were two barrels in my face and then I got hit on the back of the head with the hammer and there was a loud bang. I lay on the floor trying to protect myself."

"I got hit on the back of the head and couldn't see who was holding the gun. It all happened in five seconds."

He said he was then pulled out of his car and punched and kicked in the face and body while he was on the ground.

He added: "I never possessed that firearm, I didn't have one and never held it. I just grabbed it to move it away from my face."

■ The trial continues.

Marathon newbies are picked to run in London as part of hospice's team

FOUR marathon novices will be taking on one of the best-known events on the calendar when they run the London Marathon in aid of St Clare Hospice in April.

John Ford, Harry Fishpool, Paul Barker and Lucinda Rhodes will be joined by Giles Arbery – who has previously completed four marathons – in a five-strong team running to raise much-needed funds for the Hastingswood hospice.

They were selected from a large number of people who applied for a place to represent the hospice in the April 24 race.

John, who will be running in memory of his parents who both passed away at St Clare, said the thought of the care they received will spur him on to the finish line.

"Every single one of the staff and volunteers at St Clare are inspirational," he said. "They are the reason why I'm confident I'll be able to complete the miles.

Jade Clarke, St Clare's challenge and events fundraiser, said: "The five people we have chosen to represent us each have a special place in their hearts for St Clare and the work we do here for patients and families."

Search is on for special recruits

A CAMPAIGN to recruit more volunteers to join the ranks of the county's Special Constabulary has been launched this week by Essex Police.

Specials have full police powers, uniforms and equipment but give up their free time on a voluntary basis, organising their lives, jobs and other commitments around police duties.

There are a variety of specialist roles available for volunteers, including working with dog handlers, carrying out search operations or joining the rural crimes team.

As well as the roles already available, the force is developing further opportunities that will enable volunteers to make the most of their skills and experience.

To apply, you must be 18 or over and be able to dedicate a minimum of 16 hours a month as part of the team. For more information about the Specials visit www.essex.police.uk.

Students encouraged to recycle to help win points

A REVERSE vending machine has been installed at Passmores Academy in Harlow to encourage pupils to recycle.

To use the machine students set up an account with 'green redeem' which they can access via the machine using their log on or a QR code on the mobile app.

They then scan the item – either an empty drinks can or plastic bottle – and drop the item into the machine.

For each item deposited, points are awarded which can be transferred into various offers such as money off vouchers.

The school has a slightly different set up in that the accounts are set up for each house team and each student has a log on for their house account.

The points are collated and added to the house team totals and will contribute to the overall house score. The more the students recycle, the more points they can earn for their house.

The machine was officially unveiled on Monday by Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner and Passmores principal Vic Goddard.

Pony rescued by charity is recovering at sanctuary

A SEVERELY neglected pony abandoned in a residential area of Harlow is recovering after being rescued by staff from a horse sanctuary.

The piebald cob – who is estimated to be three years old and who has not yet been named – was seized under the recently introduced Control of Horses Act (England) after being alerted to the animal's condition by a concerned member of the public.

Jo Franklin, senior field officer at Redwings Horse Sanctuary near Harlow, attended together with a veterinary surgeon.

"She had been abandoned on a green opposite a housing estate and was extremely thin with a body condition score of 0.5 [normal BCS is 3]. Her back legs were also covered in diarrhoea and she had a weeping wound on her right hind leg."

Police and a representative from Harlow Council were present when the pony was removed from the residential area and taken for emergency veterinary treatment.

So far this has included treating injuries and building her strength by correct feeding but there are concerns that the extent of the wound on her leg may leave her at risk of serious infection and permanent damage.

■ The pony's treatment is being funded by Redwings. To make a donation towards the cost of her care text HORS30 £5 to 70070 or visit the charity's website at www.redwings.org.uk/donate.

Head supports role of children's centre

Passmores principal says families benefit from extra help

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

POTTER Street Children's Centre is needed to offer support to families living in the local community, according to Passmores Academy principal Vic Goddard.

Essex County Council last week announced plans to close four of Harlow's five children's centres – including Potter Street – next year.

Speaking this week, Mr Goddard said the centre, which is located on the site of Potter Street Academy, provides consistency and quality support to young people throughout their development as they move to primary and later secondary school.

He explained it was especially important for children struggling with their speech and language, and those with learning needs.

"It helps the school become a community hub – offering support throughout their journey from early years to secondary," he said. "There are families in the community that need extra support – sometimes third generation Harlow families that need that support. We've got to break the cycle with support and education."

He added: "I know there are some difficult

COMMUNITY HUB: Vic Goddard believes the centres are important for residents decisions to be made and I don't envy those that have to make them, but I'd love to know the rational for which one they keep open."

Children's centres currently provide services for families with children aged 0 to 5, but County Hall is proposing to extend this to meet the needs of the whole family, from pre-birth to 19.

Under the plans a single family hub would be created at Treehouse Children's Centre in Parnall Road, which would open for around 50 hours over a seven-day week. The centres in Old Harlow, Potter Street, Burnt Mill and Harberts Road would close.

Kate Coghlan, assistant director of marketing and communications at Spurgeons, said: "For us, the priority is we are going to be encouraging families to get involved in the consultation. We're going to tell them this is a real chance to help shape the services in Essex."

"Until we see what we get back from the consultation we can't have an opinion on it. We're going to wait and see what our families tell us."

If approved, the changes will be introduced next year. The consultation takes place from February 15 to April 10. Members of the public can complete the consultation online at <http://surveys.essexinsight.org.uk/childrenscentresconsultation2016>.

HAVING FUN: Pupils from The Downs Primary School at the opening of the Little Seedlings play and stay area at Harlow College

Under 5s play area gives childcare students chance to learn new skills

A NEW stay and play area at Harlow College for parents and carers with children under the age of five opened for the first time on Monday.

Little Seedlings has been set up to provide a place for parents to meet up for a chat while enjoying some educational play time with their youngsters.

It is supervised by staff from the college's early years team and childcare students who will benefit from the work experience opportunities it offers them.

College principal Karen Spencer and head of childcare Maria Staines cut a ribbon to mark the official launch while professional party singer and entertainer Keeley McLaren – in the character of Elsa from the Disney film Frozen – entertained visiting children from The Downs Primary School.

Ms Staines said: "We feel privileged at this opportunity to work with the community whilst giving the students positive experiences of supporting and working with parents, carers and their children."

■ Little Seedlings is open every Monday from 10am-noon during term time. For more information call (01279) 868068 or email seedlings@harlow-college.ac.uk.

Thug who battered OAP for £4 is jailed

Robbed pensioner walking home after a drink with pals

Court Reporter

star@hertssexnews.co.uk

A MAN who robbed a pensioner in Harlow on Christmas Eve has been jailed for three years.

Jason Blackham, 26, of no fixed abode, punched the 76-year-old victim and stole just £4 from him.

On Thursday, unemployed Blackham was jailed for three years by a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court after pleading guilty to a charge of robbery at an earlier magistrates court hearing.

The court was told the victim was walking home at about 7.30pm after enjoying a Christmas drink with friends.

As he was walking through an underpass between Latton Common Road and Church Road he was approached by the defendant who demanded money.

When the pensioner refused to hand over the cash, Blackham physically assaulted him and he fell to the ground.

He struggled to get back to his feet but was then hit repeatedly by Blackham and as a result fell over again.

He then gave Blackham the £4 in loose change he had in his pocket and the defendant left.

The pensioner walked to a local shop where an off-duty police community support officer saw him and called police and the ambulance service.

The court was told the victim suffered several cuts, grazes and bruises to his head for which he received hospital treatment.

Speaking after Blackham was sentenced to three years in prison, Detective Constable Leo Fordham, of Harlow CID, said: "This was a nasty attack on an elderly man on Christmas Eve and all for the sake of a few pounds."

Train operator promises cleaner carriages and more seats

RAIL passengers are being promised cleaner carriages and more seats by the train operator which runs services through Harlow.

Abellio Greater Anglia was responding to a customer satisfaction survey which ranked the company 20th out of 22 in a league table of national rail operators.

The results of the survey carried out by consumer watchdog

Which? prompted an angry reaction from Harlow MP Robert Halfon who said there were no excuses for the poor service.

He said the company had to "get its act together" and deliver the Rolls Royce standard of service which its customers deserved.

This week an Abellio spokesman said: "We know there is more to do to meet our customers' expectations. We are absolutely committed to consistently raising standards still further over the remaining period of our franchise to October 2016."

He said the company had a five-point plan to address some of the points raised in the survey and improve services, including:

■ spending £12m on upgrading coaches and interiors;

■ providing more seating on coaches to free up 2,500 extra standard seats every weekday;

■ recruiting 50 more cleaners;

■ improving customer service and making it more accessible;

■ making it easier for season ticket holders to claim compensation for delays through the introduction of a new online repay system.

Council 'horrified' by flytippers' dump site

Piles of commercial and household waste turn area into eyesore

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FLY-TIPPERS who have dumped a huge pile of rubbish and commercial waste near a scenic fishing spot in Harlow have been branded environmental vandals.

Harlow Council said it was horrified by the vast amount of rubbish which has been left on the site of Timberland Fisheries at Pinnacles.

Cllr Mark Wilkinson, portfolio holder for environment, said: "This is an issue we are taking very seriously. The council was made aware of the flytipping issue at Timberland Fisheries and we are carrying out ongoing investigations."

"We are horrified by the amount of rubbish, mainly commercial waste, that has been dumped at the site over what looks to be a period of several months."

"Those who have dumped rubbish at the site have no respect for the environment."

The fishery, which encompasses five lakes, provides a green oasis in the largely industrial western edge of the town.

However, the site has been turned into an eyesore by the piles of rubbish including household items and car parts which have piled up in the space between the car park and lakes.

A second smaller pile of rubbish has also built up nearer the entrance of the car park.

The site is owned by Harlow Council and leased to Timberland Fisheries, which is responsible for the maintenance and security of the site.

Cllr Wilkinson added: "We are working with the company as part of the investigation and they have agreed to clean up the site."

"We are closely monitoring the situation as this clean-up needs to take place sooner rather than later."

He said the council was exploring measures to prevent vehicle access as the site cannot be closed completely due to a public right of way running through the middle.

Preventing flytipping and prosecuting those responsible is a high priority for the council which spend thousands of pounds of taxpayers' money every year on clean-up costs. In January three people appeared at Chelmsford Magistrates Court and were fined more than £1,750 for dumping waste in Harlow.

Cllr Wilkinson added: "Council officers have been looking through the rubbish and have found paperwork linking to one individual who has been issued with a £80 fixed penalty notice. Other investigations are ongoing."

"Fly-tipping is both a local and national problem. Both household and commercial fly-tipping continues to be a problem for Harlow Council, Essex County Council and private land owners. If we find evidence linking flytipping to an individual or receive eyewitness reports we will take action."

On the
BEAT

by Inspector
Paul Maleary

Social media is now a vital tool in fighting crime

WRITING this column for the Star has made me realise how many residents pay attention to what is going on in their area.

I get daily correspondence from readers outlining the issues in their street or the fact that they do not agree with me. To be honest I think it's fantastic that there is an opportunity to carry out a healthy debate.

One of the biggest complaints relates to the visibility of staff. "We never see a copper" is the regular chant, but just because they are not seen doesn't mean we are not out there.

My team walk the beat and will stop to speak to people about community issues, but the reality is that policing has evolved in the past 29 years.

When I joined Essex Police our idea of communication was completely different to today. Memos would be sent on paper and take a week to arrive from HQ, radios worked on only one channel and social media was a column in the local paper.

Our use of technology in crimefighting and problem-solving is improving daily. As an organisation we have never been so accountable to the public. As an example, those who disagree with this can send me an email at once.

Support

As a police service we use the internet, CCTV and social media to investigate crime. We also use Facebook and Twitter to tell you about the work we carry out or to get your support in finding missing people and wanted criminals or tracing the owners of property. Your response is overwhelming and we cannot do our job without you.

Many of you may know that lots of Essex police officers use Twitter to keep you informed, including the Chief Constable Stephen Kavanagh (@CCEssexPolice) while locally you can follow @PCJoshHaase, @PCRobHance and @InspPaulMaleary. We will use Twitter whenever it is appropriate and helpful to do so. It is important that you know what we are doing and that we are visible to you.

Just over a year ago Essex Police introduced Essex Community Messaging (www.essex.police.uk/contact_us/community_messaging.aspx) which allows us to provide bespoke information regarding events to Harlow residents. It can deliver information to specific postcodes.

As time goes by we will be looking to use the system to ask for assistance or give direction. This may include the checking of sheds for missing people to highlighting a crime trend in your area. The uses are endless.

As with everything I do I use the 'Nan Test'. The fact is we have a number of 'Nans' who follow us on Twitter and some of have also joined ECM. @Granny_Day will tell you both processes are painless and free.

Please keep up your support and thanks for reading.

Safety crackdown targets drivers breaking law

A POLICE crackdown on drivers committing motoring offences in Harlow resulted in 36 being caught using a mobile phone.

Officers from the casualty reduction section of Essex Police, working with the Safer Essex Roads Partnership, used Automatic Number Plate Recognition technology during the operation which aimed to improve road safety and target criminals on the county's roads.

Drivers seen breaking the law by officers patrolling in cars and on a motorcycle were escorted to check sites in First Avenue and Southern Way last Wednesday.

Two of those stopped for using a mobile phone had their vehicles seized after checks showed they were not insured to drive them.

Seventy-five were stopped for not wearing a seatbelt, 12 vehicles were not covered by a valid MOT and one had a defective tyre.

In addition, two drivers were issued with defect rectification notices and given 14 days to resolve the problem or face further action and one was found to be in breach of the condition of their licence.

Twelve vehicles were found not to have a valid MOT and one was found to have a defective tyre.

Sergeant Dave Rudd, of the casualty reduction section: "It is disappointing that we continue to see drivers using a mobile phone behind the wheel and refusing to wear a seatbelt."

Down's Syndrome support group to hold charity night

A CHARITY supporting people with Down's Syndrome and their families will be holding a charity night at Harlow Greyhound Stadium later this month.

The fundraiser, which is being organised by Upwards With Downs, takes place on Saturday, March 19 during World Down Syndrome Week.

Tickets include a race card and a drink and cost £5 for adults in advance or £7.50 on the door (children under 16 free). For more details visit www.upwardswithdowns.co.uk.

CHARITY: Record number of people (and dogs) take part in fundraiser

Pooches on parade for a stroll in the countryside

Ken Morley

star@hertssexnews.co.uk

A RECORD number of people and dogs enjoyed a bracing 5km stroll through the Essex countryside on Sunday when they took part in St Clare Hospice's annual Winter Walkies fundraiser.

The group of 250 walkers and more than 100 dogs of all shapes and sizes – from Labradors to Labradoodles and Daschunds to Dobermans – set off from the hospice in Hastingwood.

At the head of the pack was Winnie, winner of the competition to find the Furry Face of Winter Walkies.

One dog who attracted plenty of attention was Hagrid, an 11-stone Leonberger who set a Guinness World Record for eating 14 hot dogs in 30 seconds.

The event was sponsored by Forest Veterinary Centre of Epping, Holisticare Pets of Hatfield Broad Oak and Groomalicious Pet Groomers of Harlow. They all donated prizes to the raffle.

Walk organisers are expecting to raise more than £4,500 once all the sponsorship money has been sent in.

Jade Clarke, St Clare's challenge and events fundraiser, said: "This was the 10th year we have organised Winter Walkies and it gets more and more popular every year, this time attracting a record number of dogs and their owners.

PET PROJECT: Dogs of all shapes and sizes accompanied their owners on a walk through the Essex countryside on Sunday

"It really was a sight to see so many happy wagging tails as all the dogs set off from the hospice gate and it was wonderful to hear the positive comments from those who took part saying what a lovely atmosphere there was among their fellow dog lovers."

She added: "We'd like to thank everyone who came along or supported the event, helping us raise much-needed funds so we can provide our skilled and compassionate care to every local family who needs us."

In brief

Two arrests as police raid suspected cannabis farm

ROYDON: Two people were arrested after the discovery of a suspected cannabis factory at an address in Water Lane on Friday morning.

Police officers from the Loughton Problem Solving Team, supported by detectives, neighbourhood policing officers and intelligence officers, obtained a warrant to search the premises and seized 148 plants were seized.

A 37-year-old man and a 31-year-old woman, both from Roydon, were arrested on suspicion of the production of cannabis. They were later released on bail until May 6 while the police investigation continues.

Burglary suspect appeal

NAZEING: Police investigating a burglary at a house in Sunnyside want to identify the man in this photo.

The property was broken into some time between 1.30am and 8.30am on Sunday, December 20.

Bank cards, car keys and a black Mercedes-Benz were stolen. The bank cards were later used at an ATM at the Shell garage in Abridge Road, Abridge.

Anyone with any information about the burglary or who can identify the man in the photo is asked to contact DC Darren Coote at Loughton CID on the 101 non-emergency number.

Thieves pocket old watch

NORTH WEALD: This Kendal and Dent 1928 pocket watch was one of a number of items stolen during a burglary at a house in Lancaster Road.

Cash, bank cards, jewellery and five medals were taken during the break-in on Monday, January 25.

The stolen bank cards were later used at shops in Chigwell and Ilford.

A second house in Lancaster Road was also broken into some time between Monday, January 18 and Tuesday, January 26, although it is not known what, if anything, was stolen.

Anyone with any information about either burglaries is asked to contact Loughton CID on the Essex Police non-emergency 101 number.

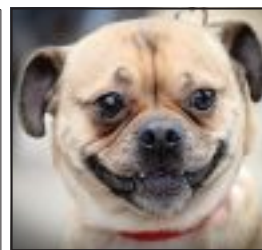

Jobs saved at shoe store

HARLOW: Jobs at the town's branch of shoe retailer Brantano have been saved after it was bought back from administration.

The store at the Queensgate Centre, off Edinburgh Way, was included in a list of 81 bought back by private equity firm Alteri, which owned the chain before it went into administration in January.

Alteri also bought back 59 small concessions but the future of 58 other stores in the chain remains uncertain.

INSPIRED BY THE PAST – LIVING FOR TODAY

INSPIRED BY THE PAST

Daniel Robinson founded the business in Stansted, Essex in 1892. Bart Robinson, Company Director and former Chairman has recalled his memories of his family to us. I was brought up by my grandparents, Daniel & Margaret, as my mother aged 21 died from the results of childbirth. Living in Stansted at Tudor House, Dan the builder (as he was known), had his timber mill and builders yard on the door step. Being a visionary he bought a building business in Bishop's Stortford, a brickyard at Birchanger, a seventy seven acre wood and Old Mill Farm, both at Elsenham. Builders were undertakers and stone masons then and so Daniel carried out funerals and erected memorials locally. Shire horses from the farm pulled timber from the wood, which were laid to season and converted at the mill to provide for joinery, fencing and coffins. Six of his seven sons worked in the business and five of them have off-spring who are shareholders today. I'm proud to say that the Harlow branch opened in Wych Elm in 1966, and many of our family members still live in Harlow today.

'We were here in 1892, we are here today and we will be here as a family company in Harlow to look after families in the future.'

Bart Robinson, Director (aged 92)

LIVING FOR TODAY

All the team at Daniel Robinson & Sons enjoy being part of the local community and take part in a wide range of community events during the year. Their staff thoroughly enjoy the annual opportunity to bring smiles to the faces of youngsters at Christmas time. Last December they hosted the fifth Annual Panto Trip for children who had a particularly tough time during 2015. They are strong supporters of St Clare Hospice and have actively fund raised on their behalf, and have supported their Light Up a Life event for many years.

Their 12th Annual Charity Golf Day raised £30k, which was distributed between a whole raft of local charities, including Essex & Herts Air Ambulance and a number of local First Responders teams.

PRE-PLANNING

Many people are choosing to take out pre-paid funeral plans. Such plans are already established as a caring and responsible way of making arrangements, services can be tailored to reflect an individual's personality, wishes and life. With families living further apart and, in some cases moving abroad, it is not unusual for children or relatives to purchase a plan on behalf of an elderly or infirm relative or parent.

Pre-paid funeral plans are not normally regarded as forming part of a person's assets or estate, so therefore, in some circumstances this may enable the plan holder to claim benefits for which they may not otherwise qualify. This could even prove advantageous with situations involving inheritance tax.

Local funeral directors are proud that when plans are made with them, they can use their local knowledge to personalise the pre-paid plan for the individual, with a good overview of the community that they serve. They will ensure that the most appropriate services and up to date price information is available, maintaining choice and providing a professional service. Daniel Robinson & Sons are committed to upholding their professional standards and providing both traditional and contemporary services. They are not distracted or bound by corporate rules meaning that they can concentrate on delivering a personal service to you and your family.

WHAT TO CONSIDER WHEN CHOOSING A PRE-PAID FUNERAL PLAN

Making and investing in a pre-paid plan is a decision which should be taken with great care, as it should be when choosing a funeral director.

There are often offers in national papers and on-line, however, it is important that you investigate whether those plans will enable you to choose which funeral director you use and whether they will stand the test of time and cover the cost of the future funeral that you have in your mind.

Here are some key points to consider:

1. Will the funeral plan allow me to choose exactly which funeral director I would like to use?

Why ask? There is a current trend for some nationwide conglomerate funeral directors to sell their plans through financial institutions such as the local Post Offices. When purchasing a plan in this way, it is important to read the small print, often you will be restricted to use a funeral director nominated by that company, this may not be a funeral director that you would choose to use and it may not even be one in your local town.

2. Will the plan cover all the expenses that will be incurred at the time of need?

Why ask? To keep the costs down and look attractive, the plan may only cover the very basic funeral requirements. It is better to speak with a professional funeral director and decide whether this suits your needs and to ensure that you know exactly what you are paying for. Choose a plan that takes into consideration inflation and offers you the opportunity to buy at today's prices but covers you for the cost of the future. As a rule of thumb, would you go to a funeral director to send a parcel or secure a mortgage – no, always go to a professional in their field, particularly when spending a large sum of money.

3. Will my money be safe and will I get value for money?

Why ask? If you choose to use Golden Charter the funds will be maintained by the Golden Charter Trust, this is a separate entity to the company, run by an Independent Board of Trustees, whose sole purpose is to manage the Trust's funds. The current value of the Golden Charter Trust Fund is £600million (2014). The sum invested grows and when the time comes, your selected funeral director receives the payment, including any growth, and uses this money to provide the agreed and guaranteed services to your family.

If you would like more information, Daniel Robinson & Sons will be pleased to meet you or have a chat over the phone, find out what you have in mind and answer any questions you may have, there is no obligation to ultimately take out a plan. Please visit their website for further details, or give them a call, www.drobinson.co.uk.

'When purchasing a plan, visit premises, the vehicles, meet the staff and choose a funeral director that will be there for you in the future to provide the best possible service'.

Bowls club keeps on rolling after 40 years

Tye Green started with members contributing half a crown

Alan Scott

alan.scott@hertssexnews.co.uk

Forty years ago a group of men and women contributed half a crown each to launch Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club.

Now the club, which had 1,400 members in its 1980s hey-day, is thriving and has celebrated the milestone with a special match against an England Indoor Bowling Association team.

Before Tye Green there was the Harlow Bowling Association made up of outdoor clubs in the town.

To play competitive bowls, clubs had to travel to other indoor clubs in Essex and Hertfordshire.

Driving force behind the club's inception was Harlow businessman Ernest Bell, known as Bill.

The idea for an indoor bowls club in Harlow was first mooted in 1972, with founder members, Bill, George and Joyce Watt, Peggy Rodd, Dennis Hyatt, Ernie Mardell, Peter Ball, Cedric Blagg, each putting in half a crown to launch the beginning of the club.

The owner of Bell Glass which was opposite the club, Bill knew many bowlers including Cedric, who was a civil engineer for Harlow Council.

Bill, Cedric and local pub land-

WINNERS: Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club ahead of their anniversary match with English Indoor Bowling Association

lord Ernie formed a new committee and negotiated with Harlow Council to acquire the land in Tilegate Road, Bush Fair, with Bill putting up a security on the loan for the six-rink building with his own money.

Construction

One of the first members, Mick Truby, recalled an early meeting to attract new members while construction work was ongoing.

"It was just a shell with a roof on and bare walls, generators on the floor to power some lights and old canteen tables and chairs laid out for a meeting," he said.

"Bill Bell chaired the meeting and those attending were asked to commit 50 pence each before an annual membership sum would eventually need to be paid once the club was opened.

"These 50 pences became founder members and Joyce Watt, who worked for Bill Bell, in his business collected the initial 50 pences and recorded names.

"In the very early days soon after the club was up and running we played a big game against an England team led by [famous England international] David Bryant."

Bell eventually became president in 1980, helped by then chairman Doug Harris. The club's first ever captain was Dennis Hyatt.

Three more rinks were added in the mid-1980s to satisfy demand with more than 500 people on the club's waiting list as it became a nine-rink centre.

Matches

Clubs from across the region would contest matches at Tye Green, by now well established on the indoor bowls circuit.

The club is also home to England international and national champion Steve Mitchinson, who has plenty of happy memories.

TAKING AIM: Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club president Don Spear

"I was born a year before Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club (TGIBC) opened. My grandad took up the sport and started playing bowls soon followed by my nan and mum," he recalled.

"It wasn't long after this that I started playing at Tye Green when I reached the ripe old age of 13."

The 40th anniversary match saw Tye Green beat an England side 174-153.

A book marking the history of Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club is available at the club, which runs beginners' classes every Monday for new members.

Lucky little turtle saved by caring aquarium staff

A YOUNG turtle which was found close to death on a beach in Cornwall has survived against all the odds thanks to the efforts of caring staff at a sealife centre.

The little creature was found by David Fenwick who took it to the Blue Reef Aquarium in Newquay. Staff there named her Talulah and set about nursing her back to health, which included hand-feeding her every 90 minutes with the help of a tube.

She was kept in a special tank in which the temperature of the water was gradually raised until she had fully recovered.

Aquarium spokesman Steve Matchett told a reporter from the local newspaper: "Turtles only stray into UK waters when there is something seriously wrong with them."

"They tend to fall victim to our chilly waters and gradually become more and more lethargic until they lapse into unconsciousness."

It is hoped Talulah will soon be released back into the sea.

THOROUGHLY MODERN MILLIE

Rhodes, South Road, Bishop's Stortford
Thursday, March 10-Saturday, March 12 (7.30pm & 2.30pm Saturday matinee) £15/£12 concessions

Bishop's Stortford Musical Theatre Juniors present a high-spirited musical romp set in New York City in 1922, a time of frisky flappers and dashing leading men.

PLAYWRIGHT Alan Bennett's award-winning play The History Boys will be performed in Bishop's Stortford this month.

Phoenix Theatre Arts (PTA), a group in Harlow and Stortford, will bring the story to the stage at Rhodes from March 15 to 19.

The plot follows a group of history pupils preparing for Oxford and Cambridge University entrance exams at a fictional grammar school in Sheffield in the 1980s. It explores how the four teachers in the play influence the lives of the boys in their later years.

Education is something that remains with everyone and Bennett taps into the nostalgia and culture and manages to effect both those who remember the '80s as well as those who are studying today.

Bennett's play premiered at the National Theatre in May 2004 and won multiple awards, including the 2005 Laurence Olivier Award for Best New Play and the 2006 Tony Award for Best Play.

The late Richard Griffiths played the beloved teacher Hector in the original 2006 film - one of his most iconic performances.

The show will be directed by the group's

Bennett classic to be performed creative director Jeanne Stacey and produced by Rhodes artistic producer Phil Dale.

Eight boys from the group play the sixth formers. They include Will Edden, who plays Timms, and has appeared in the West End as the Artful Dodger and Gavroche in Les Misérables, and Joe Vaiana, who plays Dakin and is a member of the National Youth Theatre.

The History Boys follow on from PTA's successes in recent years with musicals such as Peter Pan, West Side Story and Annie.

■ To book tickets visit www.rhodesbishopsstortford.org.uk or call the box office on (01279) 710200.

Tickets cost £16, £14 concessions and there are discounts for groups from schools.

Beauty in everything

It is hard to find beauty in everything but two artists are attempting to show rats and foxes in a positive light.

Liz Boast and Kirsten Wilson have risen to the challenge for a new exhibition Silver Fish and Vermin.

With a selection of quirky prints and silver jewellery, the pair are hoping to change perceptions, or at least entertain, as they showcase a year's work at The Gallery at Parndon Mill in Harlow.

But why did they chose such a strange topic?

"It was a crazy idea to do a show about vermin, but we want to take things from a different angle," said Liz, who is based full-time at a studio in Parndon Mill.

"As we both live in the countryside, we see vermin quite a lot, so we got to study things first hand, but we looked at photographs as well.

"We are both artists who work in print, silver work, lino and dry point printing, so the pairing of me and Kirsten is an ideal match. Parndon Mill is a really special place with nice people and a creative atmosphere."

The exhibition, which opened last week and runs until April 3, is a very large collection of work with both artists entering more than 30 pieces each.

Among the art on exhibition, which has taken both ladies a year to perfect, are a silver fish made by Kirsten and an etching by Liz of a lady carrying a fish on her head.

They have also combined their efforts, and their styles, to create an alphabet to give an A-Z of vermin and their characteristics.

Liz, who lives in Dunmow, said working alongside another artist for the first time has been an enjoyable experience.

"It is a collaborative show. We have got the same sort of humour in our prints that I think comes across in this exhibition.

"I have been an artist all my life and I usually do solo shows, so it is a nice change to be working with someone."

Both artists are selling their works on display, so it is important the exhibition is a success. But after a promising private view, they are hopeful of what the next five weeks has in store.

"It was fantastic, a really good night," said Liz after the launching private view.

"There were so many people there, it was crazy. I sold some of the work last night and it is on for another few weeks, so hopefully I can sell a few more! That would be nice."

Kirsten, who is from Hertfordshire, has been based at Parndon Mill for just a year and has put all of her energy into this gallery, which she has a personal attachment to.

"My grandpa called my brother and vermin when we used to go and stay at his house by the sea," she said.

"He died when I was eight, so the word 'vermin' has always come with an affectionate connotation and with the whiff of pipe smoke."

She added: "We both live in the middle of the countryside surrounded by all sorts of vermin like rats, foxes and fly-tippers."

"Everyone has their pet hate; hopefully our exhibition will be able to shine a humorous light on this one."

"It is hard to find beauty in everything and vermin definitely bring out emotion and reaction where ever they appear."

■ Silver Fish and Vermin will be exhibited until Sunday, April 3 at The Gallery at Parndon Mill, off Elizabeth Way, Harlow.

The exhibition is from 10am-5pm Tuesday to Friday, and 2-4pm on Sundays and Bank Holidays. For more information visit www.parndonmill.co.uk.

All peachy after tough break

BATTLING BACK: The Albino Peaches have had a difficult couple of years

AFTER a turbulent period, The Albino Peaches are back with a new single reflecting their rekindled love of music.

Static Love, which will be available for download on iTunes at the end of March, marks the end of a difficult period of injury, and bad luck, for the Harlow trio.

Frontman Dan Parkin, 29, said: "We've just finished recording our new single. It is something we have wanted to do for some time, but it has been a crazy seven or eight months for us.

"I wrote the song, we are really happy with it and can't wait to get it out there. I wrote the lyrics before the music and it is about my love for the guitar."

"Last summer, we were ready to record everything we had been working on and we had all these things lined up, but we couldn't do anything because I had broken my elbow," the singer-songwriter explained.

"I couldn't play as the break was in such a way that I couldn't bend my hand at all, so I went for three or four months without playing one note.

"I finally picked up the guitar and started playing again in January. We went to a studio in London, recorded it in half an hour and got it all done in one day.

"It is good to be getting back to normality."

Dan, who takes vocal and guitar, founded the band with drummer Tommy Judd in 2012 while bass player Kyle Panton joined last year.

Their new single is a noticeable shift from the blues and folk sound they are best known for but the peaches aren't a band to be pigeon-holed nor do they wish to settle on one style.

"The song is a bit of a new direction for us and it is quite electronic, the bass line is like a '80s disco song," added the man from Derbyshire.

"We have never liked to put ourselves in a box but in the past we have done more bluesy folk.

"We have been writing profusely and songs have come faster since I started writing on the acoustic guitar again."

Now Dan is back to full health, the group's songs are being recorded and bookings are beginning to fill the diary.

Dan said they have ambitious plans for the next 12 months to help move the band up to further heights.

"We want to write more music, release more music and do a lot more travelling. We would like to release one more single and then do an EP towards the end of summer.

"We want to get out and play and get more people interested in the music."

Static Love is the follow-up to previous single Memphis which gained an unexpected following in America after a radio DJ included it on his playlist.

"Further away from home we do really well," said Dan on their US following and touring success around Europe.

"But locally we don't seem to have clicked."

Dan has previously expressed his pride in being one of the few bands playing their own material around Harlow with pubs and festivals often favouring cover or tribute acts.

The Albino Peaches were the only non-covers band to perform at one edition of free Harlow festival, LinkFest last summer, which exemplifies the plight many bands face to make their name. Their 2015 single Should I Try? sums up the feeling of attempting, but finding it hard, to crack the industry.

He feels it has become even harder for a band to gain a following in the town after the closure of The Square at the end of last year.

"Small venues closing is a trend that seems to be developing across lots of towns, especially back home in the Sheffield area," said Dan.

"We, as a band, have lost a key venue in The Square. But even with it going, a lot of pubs have picked things up - I know The Shark and The Herald have started having more original bands."

Despite the closure of the Fourth Avenue venue, Dan said he is content with the local scene, with the spirit of live music determined to survive.

He added: "We are also doing some shows in Bishop's Stortford and all around the area. We love it around here.

"I think Harlow is a key player in the southern music scene and I think it can continue to grow."

Got the blues? Listen to Jake and Elwood . . .

CAPTURING the essence of a legendary band and their cult film, The Blues Brothers Experience is coming to Harlow Playhouse.

Formed by comedian duo Dan Aykroyd and the late John Belushi, The Blues Brothers were a US television hit in the 1970s before gaining worldwide recognition through the self-titled 1980 film.

As well as containing one of the most memorable car chases in history, the film is widely credited for bringing blues to a new audience.

The Blues Brothers Experience is a tribute that does justice to the tongue-in-cheek band both in spirit, appearance and music.

Ben Williamson fills the shows of Aykroyd in performing as Elwood Blues while Joe Lyndon takes the role of Belushi as his on screen brother Jake.

The 'siblings' are backed by a nine-piece band to replicate the full blues experience that is only truly done justice when performed live.

■ The Blues Brothers Experience will perform at Harlow Playhouse on Friday, March 18. Tickets start from £17.50. For bookings and more information visit www.playhouseharlow.com.

Style over substance

Damon Smith is underwhelmed by the Coen brothers' homage to Hollywood

When the mighty fall, they fall hard. Writer-directors Joel and Ethan Coen, who each have four Academy Awards on the mantelpiece and were nominees again this year for their script for Bridge of Spies, descend from the filmmaking firmament with a sickening thud.

Hail, Caesar!, the brothers' screwball valentine to the golden age of 1950s Hollywood when studios nurtured, protected and controlled big name stars, is a deeply disappointing exercise in period style over substance, characterisation and wit.

It's hard to believe that the mercurial siblings who gave us The Big Lebowski, Fargo, O Brother, Where Art Thou? and No Country for Old Men could be responsible for this flimsy whimsy.

Admittedly, there are a couple of stand-out musical sequences that quicken the pulse and remind us of the Coens' genius.

These crescendos are spliced and shoehorned into the film's trailer, which runs to a trim two and a half minutes, and is infinitely more enjoyable than the bloated 106-minute misfire that has been haphazardly bolted together in the editing room.

As usual, the ensemble cast shimmers with comic talent, but here, almost everyone is squandered in thinly sketched roles.

Eddie Mannix (Josh Brolin) masterminds production at Capitol Pictures, keeping the tawdry secrets of his leading men and ladies out of rival gossip columns penned by twins Thora and Thessaly Thacker (Tilda Swinton).

He also has to massage egos on and off the set of the studio's big budget epic, Hail, Caesar! – A Tale Of The Christ, starring matinee idol Baird Whitlock (George Clooney).

When a Communist group calling itself The Future kidnaps Baird, Eddie races against time to pay the $100,000 ransom and keep the abduction secret from the filmmaking community.

Meanwhile, Eddie must conceal the pregnancy of synchronised swimming actress DeeAnna Moran (Scarlett Johansson) and convince revered director Laurence Laurentz (Ralph Fiennes) to cast singing Western dreamboat Hobie Doyle (Alden Ehrenreich) in his romantic period drama.

"My readers don't care about Hobie Doyle – he wears chaps!" remarks Thora Thacker coldly.

As the situation with Baird spirals out of control, Eddie calls upon the services of chain-smoking film editor CC Calhoun (Frances McDormand), agent Joseph Silverman (Jonah Hill) and tap-dancing leading man Burt Gurney (Channing Tatum).

Hail, Caesar! is depressingly light on laughs and the Coens' trademark eccentricities.

The fleeting appearance of a sparkling one-liner – "God doesn't have children. He's a bachelor and He's very angry" – breaks up the mediocrity.

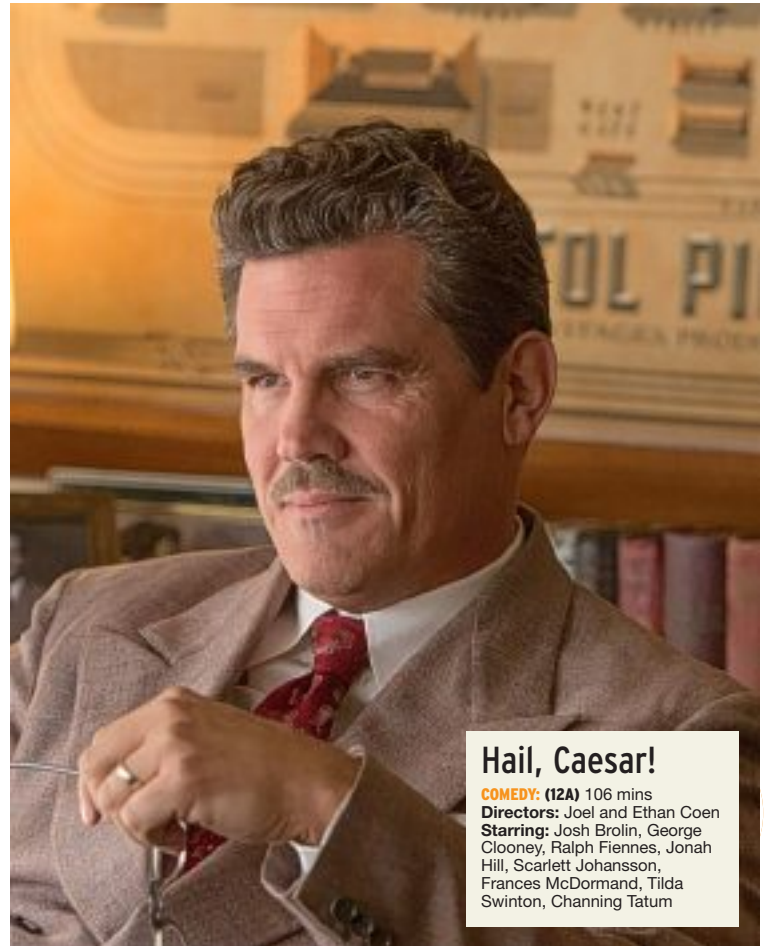

Some vignettes are stretched to the point of discomfort, such as Hobie's attempts to master one line of period dialogue ("Would that it were so simple").

Even the woefully underused Tatum is reduced to dancing for his proverbial supper in a tight-fitting sailor's outfit.

Magic Mike XXL, all is forgiven.

Damon Smith

HOMES

Go North,
young man!

COVER PROPERTY > Blackhorse Lane, North Weald

Great garden at village home near to Tube

BELVOIR is delighted to offer for sale this four-bedroom detached family home in North Weald.

The property is situated in a quiet cul-de-sac and has a large garden with open fields to the side.

Epping Underground station is approximately three miles away.

The front porch has double-glazed French doors to the hall, which has wooden flooring.

The lounge-diner also has wooden flooring plus a fireplace and double-glazed door to the rear.

There is an AEG integral fan oven and hob and integral Bosch slimline dishwasher in the kitchen-diner which leads to the useful utility room.

There is also a shower room with tiled floor and electric shower on the ground floor.

Upstairs there are three good-size double bedrooms – all with built-in wardrobes – and a single room.

They are served by a family bathroom with vanity units, low level WC and corner bath with shower attachment.

Outside, the large garden has a patio area and is mostly laid to lawn with mature trees, plant and shrub borders and rear access to main road.

At the front of the property, there is parking for up to four cars and gravel area as well as tree, shrub and plant borders.

FACTFILE

This spacious family home is being marketed by Belvoir Harlow for offers over £700,000. Contact Belvoir on (01279) 426888 or visit their office at 40 High Street, Old Harlow.

Our job is all about listening

We have been very pleased with the purchase of our new home.

Intercounty were by far the best agents we dealt with whilst looking for a property. You listened to what we were looking for, notified us as soon as something suitable came available.

The efficiency and professionalism of all involved surpassed our expectations and really made moving house a whole lot easier and less stressful than we feared it may have been. We are very grateful and wouldn't hesitate in recommending you to others.

FOOD AND DRINK TASTERS Required

9 hours per week, part time permanent
Tuesday - Thursday 10am - 1pm
(Fixed 3 days and times)
Based in Bishops Stortford
Pay rate £8.00 per hour

A fantastic opportunity to join a sociable and established team with a view to contributing greatly to product development. Full training will be given; however, you must be in good health, with no allergies/intolerances to any foods. It is essential that you are prepared to taste a wide range food and drink samples. You need to be computer literate and have excellent interpersonal skills with the ability to communicate effectively within a team environment. Most importantly, you must be an excellent time keeper, reliable, conscientious and willing to commit long term to this part-time role.

Haileybury

French Assistant(e) from September 2016

A co-educational HMC boarding and day school for 11-18 years

Haileybury wishes to appoint an enthusiastic and inspiring French Assistant(e). The successful candidate will help to develop the French conversational skills of Haileybury's 6th form pupils by conducting conversation classes on a 1:1 basis, or in small groups. He/she will aid our pupils as they prepare for their AS, A level, and IB oral exams. In addition to this conversational work, the role may include extension sessions for our French (near) native pupils, and our Able, Gifted and Talented linguists lower down the school as a supplement to the pupils' timetabled French lessons. These extension sessions will help to maintain and increase the pupils' fluency and enhance their experience and awareness of French literature and current affairs. The successful candidate will motivate and inspire pupils to speak French and will play an important role in Haileybury's vibrant French Department.

Closing date 11 March 2016

Application form and further details available from

Outstanding Opportunity

Heath Mount School

Drama Teacher

For September 2016, we require a Drama teacher to lead this important subject, including the direction of productions each year. We have plans for a magnificent Theatre/Performing Arts Auditorium which the successful candidate will be able to use as a base for their teaching. The position can either be a part-time role, or full-time for a candidate who is able to teach another subject.

The successful candidate will be a well-qualified graduate with a proven record of successful productions.

Closing date for applications: Wednesday 16th March 2016

Essex County Council

Essex County Council and Southend-on-Sea Borough Council Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (as amended)

Regulation 19 of the Town and Country Planning (Local Development) (England) Regulations 2012 Replacement Waste Local Plan – Pre Submission Draft Notice of public participation in the preparation of a Local Plan

Engagement period 3 March – 14 April 2016

Essex County Council (ECC) and Southend-on-Sea Borough Council (SBC) have produced the Joint Replacement Waste Local Plan – Pre Submission Draft document. This sets out the key principles to guide the future management of waste in Essex and Southend up until 2032. Primarily, this includes the spatial vision, strategic objectives, spatial strategy, core policies, site allocations, development management policies and monitoring framework.

Essex County Council and Southend-on-Sea Borough Council propose to submit the Replacement Waste Local Plan to the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government for independent examination under Section 22 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 along with the supporting submission documents. Before this, in accordance with Regulation 19 of the Town and Country Planning (Local Development) (England) Regulations 2012, responses are sought during the engagement period from 3 March. Responses should be based on soundness and legal compliance of the Plan. All consultation documents can be accessed online via www.essex.gov.uk/WLP and www.southend.gov.uk/wastelocalplan. Paper copies of the Pre-Submission Draft Plan and its accompanying Non-Technical Summary are available at County Hall in Chelmsford, at the Civic Centre in Southend and at Essex and Southend libraries and district/borough/city council offices.

Representations on the Pre Submission Draft Plan March 2016 are invited during the six-week period of public engagement from 3 March to 14 April 2016 and must be received by 17:00 on 14 April. Representations can be submitted in any of the following ways:

- Online via <http://consult.essexcc.gov.uk>
- By email to mineralsandwastepolicy@essex.gov.uk
- In writing to: Minerals and Waste Planning (RWLP), Planning and Environment, Essex County Council, Freepost CL 3636, E3 County Hall, Chelmsford, CM1 1XZ.

Please note that consultation responses received will be shared between ECC and SBC as part of their joint working partnership.

(Dobbs Weir Road, Roydon) (Temporary 20mph Speed Limit) Order 2016

Further to the notice: Under section 14(2) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, which commenced on 1 March 2016.

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily introduce a 20mph speed limit on the following length of Dobbs Weir Road, Roydon in the District of Epping Forest, from its junction with Avenue Road, north west for a total distance of approximately 160 metres (The road is currently 30mph by virtue of street lighting)

The speed restriction is scheduled to commence on 6 March 2016 to 29 April 2016 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and is required for the safety of the public due to the surface of the road and until the carriageway is resurfaced.

The Order will come into effect on 6 March 2016 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

English joy for Alana

ALANA MANSFIELD competed against the best table tennis players in England at the U12 Girls' National Cup.

The 11-year-old Harlow player (pictured above) was invited to the tournament in Bristol because of her position near the top of the Table Tennis England rankings and took on the seven other top players in a round-robin event.

Seeded third for the event, she won two matches and finished in seventh position in a tight competition in which only four points separated the entire field in the final league table.

Alana, who attends Freshwaters Primary Academy in Harlow, said: "It was fun and I think I played well. It's not like any other tournaments that I go to because they are all really good players and there's no easy matches. "I think my best match was against (silver medallist and top seed) Ruby Chan because even though I lost I played quite consistently."

Swimming team close in on national finals

HARLOW Penguins' swimmers combined to star for Churchgate Primary School at regional relay qualifiers for the British National Swimming Championships for junior schools.

The 2016 East & South East regional finals took place at Woodside Leisure Centre in Watford on Friday.

The school, representing Harlow, took a team of four swimmers: Tyler Jackson, Ben Stringer, Ethan Ryan and Alex Knight (pictured above).

This was the first time Churchgate have entered this championship. There were schools from Hertfordshire, Buckinghamshire, Bedfordshire and Essex. In the freestyle relay heats for small schools, Churchgate won in 1min 03.56sec, which gave them a good lane in the final. They went on to win this in 1:03.62, which was two seconds faster than the team in second place.

In the second relay competition, the medley, Churchgate once again qualified for the final with a time of 1:10.41.

Again they had a good lane because of this and won the final in 1:10.21. They now must wait for the regional qualifiers for Norfolk and Suffolk and the times from this event will be compared to the Watford qualifier.

The three fastest teams go through to the national finals in Sheffield in June.

Jonathan Tye, Churchgate Primary School head teacher, said: "The boys were outstanding and represented our school, and Harlow, with great pride and excitement.

"The winning times were superb and are hopefully good enough for us to continue this exciting journey.

"Ben, Ethan, Alex and Tyler have really pushed themselves, showing great determination, resilience and a belief in their ability.

"It's going to be difficult but we really hope the boys will have the opportunity to compete on the national stage.

"I would like to thank Martin Stringer (head coach of Harlow Penguins and the father of Ben) for helping out and organising poolside.

"We also have a strong partnership with local estate agents Ryeland-Johnson and we would like to thank them for their continued support.

"A huge thank you to our parents and families who supported the children and the school in this competition."

Hawks secure league title

HARLOW Hawks secured the Essex Basketball League Division Two title with a thrilling 88-84 victory over rivals Southend Scorpions.

Harlow had only entered the Essex League this season and have taken the division by storm, only having lost one match so far.

But the Scorpions managed to sting Harlow early on.

Dan Cohen and Rimantas Norkeliunas kept Hawks in the game but Southend led 27-16 at the end of the first quarter.

Hawks went on a 16-4 run early in the second quarter.

Scores from Norkeliunas, Shab Niaz, Mark Haddow, Tom White and Russ Allan sealed a 41-39 turnaround at half-time.

Allan and Norkeliunas hit 16 points and White and Richard Whytock added a further nine as Hawks led 66-60 heading into the final quarter.

White's impressive slam dunk gave Harlow a little breathing space in the final quarter.

With three minutes to go, Hawks were seven points ahead.

This meant a buzzer-beating three-pointer from Scorpions was not enough to help them.

HARLOW HAWKS (points in brackets): Friedner 0, Fuhrmann 5, White 15, Whytock 7, Norkeliunas 33, Niaz 8, Allan 11, Cohen 4, Haddow 5.

Will's power at Brit Champs

HARLOW Athletic Club runner Will Snook broke a record at the British Universities Indoor Athletics Championships last weekend in Sheffield.

He competed in the men's 400m.

From a starting line up of 76 he qualified for the semi-finals in ninth position and ran an excellent race in his semi-final.

He finished second in a new Harlow AC indoor record of 49.31sec.

Snook is a student at Leeds University.

"Unfortunately it was first past the post through to the final only, so he did not progress through but it was an outstanding result and we are all very proud of him at Harlow AC, particularly his coach Nat Fisher," said club-mate Dawn Jones.

Penguins swimmer aiming to make a splash in Rio

DENTIST in the making Karl Batorski is ready to get his teeth into the 2016 Olympic Games - if he secures qualification at the British Championships in April.

The stalwart Harlow Penguins swimmer, who turns 28 later this month, is in the final year of his dental studies at Queen Mary University in London before he takes up his chosen profession full time.

Avid readers of Star Sport will have seen his name crop up on many occasions as he has won scores of medals since he began competing for the Harlow club around the turn of the century, before and after its move to the Harlow Leisurezone.

Having built up more than 15 years' experience in the pool, he now hopes to fulfil a lifetime ambition by qualifying for the Great Britain team for this summer's showpiece in Rio de Janeiro.

He said: "My personal aim is to swim in the Olympics and win, whether it be now or in the near future. I do not intend to throw in the towel just yet."

"I plan to swim in the Olympic trials this year in April and hopefully make a mark on British swimming."

"After that I will continue to compete at a high level in the hope of achieving my dream."

Fantastic

After a lengthy break from the sport, he has hit the headlines once again over the last three years, with county, regional and national medals and appearances.

Having lived in South Africa between the ages of two and 11, he moved with his family to Harlow in the late 1990s.

Batorski, 6ft 3ins tall, got a fantastic start to learning about his favourite sport in South Africa, training with the head coach of the national Olympic South African swimming team, Wayne Riden, as a child.

Fresh from his huge success at the Essex County Championships, he told the Star about his early swimming career. "He [Riden] always commented how determined I was and how I could train myself to victory," Batorski said.

"I moved to Harlow and joined Harlow Penguins Swimming Club at the age of 12 where I have been coached by a number of people: Mark Pickering and Alan Mitchell, who pushed me to my limit and helped me achieve my goals."

"I met [current Penguins head coach] Martin Stringer three years ago who convinced me to get back into the water and compete on a serious level again which I am truly grateful for."

"He has shown patience and persistence in developing my skills as a swimmer and is truly a great coach. He will be my head coach heading into the Olympic trials and he is always poolside cheering me on."

Batorski served notice of his talent in Bloemfontein when he became the U10 South Africa record holder for 50 metres breaststroke.

Back in Blighty, he made his first international appearance for England at 12-years-old, competing against four other countries.

He said: "At 13 I was the fastest in my age group in the country for 100 metres freestyle and 100 metres butterfly."

His progress continued unabated as he was a two-time British Championships gold medallist at the age of 15 and became a 16-year-old British record holder in the 100m individual medley.

When he was 17 he competed in the trials for the 2005 Commonwealth Games in Melbourne, Australia.

He certainly doesn't do things by halves and raced in six events, showing the stamina of a swimmer many years older, competing in the 200m individual medley, 100m freestyle, 100m butterfly, 100m breaststroke, 100m backstroke, 50m freestyle.

Although he was ultimately unsuccessful in this bid to represent England.

His hopes of taking part in the London 2012 Olympic trials suffered a huge blow when he damaged his left shoulder.

After a ten-year absence out of competition he was ninth in the country in the 100m butterfly at the British Championships in August 2015 and hopes to go much quicker this year in Glasgow.

The man who convinced him to return to the sport, Martin Stringer, is convinced he can shine.

He said: "He has been an inspirational swimmer for Penguins swimmers to follow and they are given a great understanding of what it takes, the demands physically, the application in racing."

"There are times when we have had to physically pull him out of the water."

Sponsored by Stanstead Abbotts Dental Practice, Batorski has also received tremendous support from Dave Marrington and his team (Andy Fleming and Mark Macciocchi) at Harlow Leisurezone with developing his fitness.

Hawks spot on to Av goals feast

Ryman North
Harlow Town 4
Aveley 1

DANNY Chapman hailed his side's mental strength as they used a missed penalty for opponents Aveley as the inspiration for a sparkling second-half show.

Harlow Town have now lost just one game in their last 16 matches.

Chapman said: "It was important we won and got back to winning ways."

"We had that mental strength, particularly in the second half. Their penalty kicked us into gear and from then on we were dominant."

Junior Dadson, Alex Read, Ibrahima Sonko and Fabion Simms were on target for the hosts, who have won 13 of their last 16 games.

The Hawks took the lead on 36 minutes when Read's low cross was stabbed in from close range by Dadson.

But a minute later Aveley equalised. Liam Nash burst into the box and rifled past keeper David Hughes at the near post.

In the dying seconds of the first half, Aveley were denied a strong penalty appeal when Sonko upended David Fallah.

But the visitors were awarded a spot-kick just minutes into the second half.

Craig Pope brought down Fallah, but Arian Retkoceri blazed the penalty over the bar. Harlow capitalised on the miss, and just two minutes later took the lead again.

Small crossed from the byline and this was met by Read at the back post.

The Hawks really began to turn the screw and on 67 minutes netted a third goal as the towering Sonko headed home from a corner.

Harlow added a fourth three minutes later. Read received the ball in the six-yard box, and with his back to goal selflessly laid back to Simms who curled a shot inside a post.

This win moved the Hawks on to 76 points from 36 games, still in third and behind second-placed Thurrock on goal difference. Leaders AFC Sudbury are 12 points clear.

HAWKS: Hughes, Small, Eadie, Pope, Sonko, Simms, Dadson, Noto (Gordon), Read, Wixon, Benjamin (Melaugh).

Champs miss key players but still win

East Men's Hockey League Division Six South East

Harlow 3
Old Loughtonians 0

CHAMPIONS Harlow beat lowly Old Loughtonians 3-0 on Saturday.

With a number of players unavailable, Harlow played with the bare 11 for the first time this season.

With playmakers Joe Symonds and Benn Hagger two of the missing stars, the hosts struggled to take a grip of the match with their trademark flowing, passing game.

But Adam Ottley, who had dropped into midfield from his usual attacking position, started to get a grip on the midfield.

Harlow keeper Richard Norris came out to block an effort as Old Loughts threatened to go in front.

This seemed to awaken a dormant Harlow side as they went close through skipper Ben Light.

Undeterred, James Morris unleashed a pinpoint pass to Rhys Mace and he drove forward, found Andy Boughtwood who turned his man and fired into a bottom corner of the net.

After the break, the match became a fiery affair with players on both teams being shown cards for bad tackles and dissent to the umpire.

On 50 minutes Harlow doubled their lead. Boughtwood rifled past a motionless goalkeeper and into the net.

Loughts began to sit deeper in an attempt to hit Harlow on the counter, however the game plan backfired as Luke Krzoska had time on the ball to pick out the advancing Ottley who found Carl Chandler lurking at the back post to slot home and wrap the game up.

Harlow have three games remaining this season and on Saturday travel to Waltham Forest for an early evening fixture.

They remain 13 points clear of second-placed Clacton II, who clinched promotion last weekend.

Ladies hit for six by Wapping

HARLOW Ladies lost 6-1 at home to Wapping fourths in the Essex Women's Hockey League Premier Division.

Despite missing regular team captain Emma Tweddle, injured in last week's match, Harlow started the game strongly with midfielders Bethan Spencer and Petra Trimble combining well.

An unlucky break in play saw Wapping take the lead when their striker picked up a through pass and took the chance to put their team in front.

Harlow were quick to equalise through new striker Liz Green who rifled home.

Anna Ferdinando and Kelly Ball linked well on the right side but Wapping defended well.

Against the run of play the visitors scored twice and led 3-1 at half-time.

Harlow playmakers Rowena Ricketts and Georgina Esterhuysen-Smith had shots on goal blocked by the keeper in the second half and one Ricketts' shot was bravely stopped by a defender's head.

Wapping netted three more goals to turn it into a rout.

Meanwhile, Harlow competed in the fifth and final round of the East Herts and West Essex Cross Country League against teams from Bishop's Stortford, Hoddeston, Saffron Walden and Ware.

The race was hosted by Bishop's Stortford on a fairly dry and firm five-mile course.

The Harlow women's team went into the last round in joint first place with Ware Joggers and needing to put in a good performance to pull clear of a strong Ware ladies team.

Fantastic

But after a fantastic effort on the day they edged out Ware to claim the trophy by just one point.

The men's team did not fair so well, finishing in third place on the day and fourth overall.

The combined team were second on the day and also second overall, just four points behind champions Ware Joggers.

First Harlow woman was Louise Brass in an excellent second place out of 73 finishers in 32:32.

She was followed home by Louise Tankard (5th in 34:07), Julia Gardiner (6th in 34:25) and Sharon Wright (9th in 36:10).

In the men's race, Jared Bethell was third out of 114 finishers in a fantastic 28:34.

He was followed by Rich Hynes (7th in 29:28), Rob Lowe (8th in 30:00) and Alex Smith (20th in 31:28).

Other results: Women: 12th Carinne Jay 36:33; 18th Catherine Ridge 38:04; 20th Sandi Ridge 38:38; 34th Wendy Spring 41:06; 39th Hannah Cox 42:15; 46th Michelle Hyde 42:51; 48th Louise Kedge 43:30; 58th Holly Naim 45:22; 63rd Karen Moir 47:01; 67th Alison Bull 48:56.

Men: 25th Jamie Jephcott 32:09; 34th Ben Usher 32:46; 35th Alan Broughton 32:46; 36th Adrian Fell 32:47; 46th Len Saterlay 33:21; 47th Andy Terrell 33:23; 52nd Daren Tiley 34:44; 57th Martyn Coulter 35:12; 61st Mark Hayward 35:55; 65th Roy Steven 36:09; 67th Andy Ramage 36:35; 68th Andy Bradley 36:41; 74th John Bull 37:32; 76th Pasquale Pellicchia 37:36; 77th Paul Schroder 37:44; 82nd John Tennant 38:30; 86th Justin Patten 38:56; 88th Martin McColgan 39:16; 89th Graham Saville 39:32; 90th Alan Coates 40:01; 95th Robin Lozeau 41:17; 100th Alan Wellbelove 42:22; 109th Ron Newton 48:57.

POCKET ROCKET AIMING FOR TOP

Snooker sensation beat former World Champ Davis

by Alan Scott

alan.scott@hertssexnews.co.uk

HE has been hailed as a future star by legends Steve Davis and Ronnie 'The Rocket' O'Sullivan.

And the goal for Passmores School student Alex Clenshaw is competing alongside the likes of O'Sullivan and fellow Essex resident and current World Champion Stuart Bingham.

Alex was only 13 when he actually beat former multi World Championship winner Steve Davis in an exhibition match in Writtle.

He was accused of stealing his cue action from 'The Rocket' himself, only to confess that he had never actually watched snooker on television!

Alex, now 14, has made phenomenal progress since being spotted when legend Davis ran an exhibition for youngsters at the Tracys Road school in 2014.

Prestigious

His progress saw him become the youngest ever annual President's Cup winner at the War Memorial in Old Harlow last month.

He caused a huge upset when he beat home favourite Steve Bothwell 2-1 in an earlier round, a player with more than 30 years' experience on the green baize.

The teenager showed no nerves as he dispatched Nobby Clarke 3-1 in the final.

Alex has been playing out of Burnt Mill Snooker & Social Club and the War Memorial and has competed alongside men in the Bishop's Stortford & District Snooker League, but is now being taken under the wing of professional Jason Pegram.

Pegram, set to open his new club, JP Snooker, at The Stow soon, said: "He has got the desire. He has got a fantastic talent. He has got to learn how to impose himself and handle pressure."

Alex's mother Chriss said: "Steve Davis said he has got something."

On his stunning win over the snooker favourite, she said: "Steve made a mistake on the pink and then Alex potted the pink and black."

The youngster has also played O'Sullivan.

Pegram said ideally Alex would have taken up the sport at least five years earlier, but used Basil don's Bingham, of an example of what can be achieved in the sport.

"Stuart only came into the sport [professionally] in the last ten years and he's coming up 40. "Alex has got plenty of time ahead of him."

A year ago Alex competed in a top national tournament for U18s from all over the UK in Mayfair, London, after being nominated by Davis.

Although he exited this competition early, he played particularly well against youngsters several years older than him.

Chriss added: "We realised it would make or break him. He was nervous but he did not get disheartened. It made him more determined."

Alex practices every day and has even ditched the Xbox as he looks to move up the rankings.

"He's really small for his age but he's being talked about as a future star," said Chriss.

"He got rid of the Xbox. We said 'if you want to be professional you have to remove things that interfere'.

"He has played at the Crucible against professional players. When he played Ronnie [O'Sullivan] he got told off. They said 'don't watch Ronnie, you are copying his movement' and he said he had never watched him. They just assumed he was doing that to be like Ronnie, but he does not watch anyone."

Butler boost for Hawks

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman has boosted his squad with the signing of former Stevenage and Brentwood Town defender Jonny Butler.

And the Harlow Town supremo has not given up hope of signing a striker from a Vanarama North side – even if it's near the end of the season.

The acquisition of Butler (pictured above), who played for the Hawks during the 2012-13 campaign, will provide cover at full-back and centre-half. He can also play in midfield.

Butler came through the youth system at Stevenage before switching to St Albans City.

He has also featured for Histon, Royston Town and Arlesey Town.

He was previously at Ryman Premier Division side Brentwood.

Chapman said: "He came for training and did okay. He can play centre-half, right-back or central midfield."

"He's a tall lad and technically good. Hopefully he can add something to the squad but he will have to bide his time and wait for his opportunity."

Roots

Chapman cannot name the Vanarama North striker he hopes to sign, but revealed the player wants to return to his Essex roots.

Meanwhile, Harlow face a difficult trip to Bury Town on Saturday in Ryman North.

Harlow are taking a coach load of fans to Bury St Edmunds for Saturday's match.

Despite conceding the title to AFC Sudbury last week, Chapman says his side still won't be giving up on the championship until the fat lady sings. "Sudbury have got to play Hornchurch, Tilbury and Brightlingsea. You can never say never. We'll keep going until it's mathematically impossible. I think it might be a bit beyond us. It might have been different if we had beaten Dereham," he said.
